

Victorian Men's Netball League

Sports Trainer Position Description - 2019

We are seeking sports trainers for the Australian Men's and Mixed Netball Championships in 2019. Melbourne will be hosting the week-long tournament at Casey Stadium from April 20 through to and including Saturday April 27.

There are a minimum of 6 positions available.

Role outline:

You will be responsible for acute soft tissue injury management, pre-game preparation and post-game recovery, identification of injuries which require players to be removed from the court and escalating to appropriate medical assessment where necessary. Crucial to your success in this role will be your ability to work under pressure in a large team, underpinned by good communication with players, coaches, team managers, other sports trainers and a sports physiotherapist.

Prior to the Championships, you will be required to attend the annual VMNL Round Robin and some training sessions if possible. During the Championships you will be required to assist players before and after each game whilst being present as the primary carer during each game. It is expected each team will play up to two games per day, and one sports trainer may be responsible for up to two teams per day.

Remuneration:

- No expenses should be incurred by the Head Sports Physiotherapist or Sports Trainers during the Championships, unless they individually choose to bring additional equipment/supplies due to personal preference (e.g. preferred cremes, k-tape, scissors).
- Included in remuneration is:
 - Daily monetary value determined by VMNL to cover individual costs of;
 - Personal car use (if the trainers will be using their own car) - if no personal car used, this will be substituted with the cost of accommodation and car pooling with their allocated team.
 - Daily petrol allowance (fixed value, not claim/receipt based) - if no personal car used, this will be substituted with the cost of accommodation and car pooling with their allocated team
 - Food - all meals included
 - First aid kit
 - Massage creams

- Accommodation - to be assessed on an individual basis.

NOTE: sports physio and sports trainers should provide their own massage table, or coordinate sharing if appropriate.

Eligibility:

- Accredited Sports Trainer, completion of Level 1 Sports Trainer (Sports Medicine Australia)
- First Aid Level 1 (required as part of SMA sports trainer level 1)
- Experience or degree relevant to sports training/physiotherapy with proof of basic life support training (CPR, basic first aid) or comparable and relevant training/qualifications (outlined in CV)
- Prior sports trainer experience
- Prior netball experience

If you feel you do not quite meet the eligibility criteria, however feel you can fulfill the requirements of the role, please submit your application so that it can be considered for further discussion.
